

URBANETECTONICS, LLC

Integrated Systems Manager

Last Revision: 02122019

Job Description

The Integrated Systems Manager manages and coordinates technical overlap between disciplines, systems, and function. Associate monitors, checks, and provides quality control on the service fulfillment and product delivery. Associate must be technically knowledgeable in the area of industry specific to the deliverable.

Associate identifies solutions, recommendations, and alternatives to conflicting systematic issues. Associate responsible for the production of improved process maps, procedural, operational continuity, supply chain options, and systems theory. Associate is responsible for recommending, training, inventory, and distribution of various types of tools such as software, hardware, and other types of technology that assist the project team in doing their work more efficiently or effectively.

Qualifications

Education: This position requires an undergraduate degree in science, technology, engineering, or math and more than 10 years experience in building science, engineering, or the oil & gas industries.

Physical Requirements: 25 lbs lifting, 25 lbs pushing/pulling, bending, stooping and squatting

Pay Schedule

This is a project-based position which varies with the service or product fee. There is a base hourly wage at the professional level. Commission schedule for referrals are applicable.

Organizational Structure

Typically reports to the Executive Committee, Managing Partner, or signing agent.

I clearly understand my duties and responsibilities, as indicated above, and I understand the standards by which the success of our company is measured.

Print Name: _____ Date _____

Signed Name: _____

725 FM 1103 PMB 133, Cibolo, Texas 78108

PH: (210) 549-9115

Web: www.urbanetek2.com

Email: information@urbanetek2.com